HITCH COMES IN STRIKE; 8 OF 11 UNIONS WON'T GO OUT

Workers Blame Board Of Labor For Failure To Adjust

SOME HOPE YET

Plenty Of Men Ready To Take Jobs Say Heads Of Big Railways

(Reuter's Service)

Cleveland, Oct. 24.—Responsibility for the railroad strike which is scheduled to begin next Sunday is placed on the Railroad Labor Board and the carriers, according to a statement from the big five brotherhood chiefs.

An announcement is made today that the General Manager of the brotherhood has been cited to appear before the Labor Board in Chicago on Wednesday.

San Antonio, Oct. 24.—The Labor leaders claim that the strike on the International and Great Northern Railway is a hundred percent effective, but railroad officials say that the passenger service is unimpaired and a resumption of freight services has started.

It is announced that the strikers are being replaced and they are getting all the men they need.

8 OF 11 NOT TO STRIKE

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Railroad operators declare that the action of the majority of the eleven standards in the Union in refusing to join in a strike now has broken the backbone of the proposed walkout.

A ballot being taken among 14,000 organised signalmen, 25,000 stationary firemen and 375,000 maintenance way men, they joined the shop craft unions in announcing that they would not strike, making eight out of eleven federated labor unions refusing to join the brotherhood. Two Unions are undecided. The telegraphers will strike.

The call-strike action of the Unions is a severe blow against the brotherhood. It came with bomb-like suddenness because they believed that the American federated labor unions would follow the brotherhood.

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT

Chicago, Oct. 24.—The Railroad Labor Board announces that there is great reason to hope that the threatened railway strike will be averted.

250 WALK OUT

San Antonio, Oct. 23.—Two hundred and fifty brakemen and switchmen walked out today on the I. and G. N. road, San Antonio Division.

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 24.—The death is announced of Brigadier-General Robert Napier Bray, C.M.G., D.S.O. General Bray served with distinction during the war in France when he was awarded the D.S.O. and C.M.G. He had also seen service in China and was present at the Relief of Peking in 1900.

He was selected for the post by the Army Council and arrived in Shanghai in October 1913 at a time when he held the title of Major in the British Army, coming from the Duke of Wellington's Regiment, the West Riding Regiment.

In the period of his service here three new companies were enrolled in the Volunteer Corps, the Austro-Hungarian, The Shanghai Scottish and the Italian companies. At the time of the outbreak of the war he was among the first to answer the call of the homeland.

U.S. Delegates Hit Snags In Preparing Agenda On Navy Question

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 25.—The correspondent of the Associated Press, according to a wireless message from the Kashima Maru, learns that the basis of Japan's program at Washington will be the desire to maintain a defensive navy large enough to cope with any naval force which any other nation may be capable of sending to the Far East.

CROWDS CHEER JAPANESE

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reutre)

Washington, Oct. 24.—Crowds in the streets today cheered the members of the Japanese military and naval delegation to the Armament Conference as it passed from the railway station to the hotel. This party is headed by General Tanaka and Admiral Baron Kato, and is the first of the official delegations to arrive. It has issued a statement of thanks for the cordiality and courtesies of the Army and Navy and citizens from the time of its arrival at San Francisco to now.

CHINA ASKS HER OWN

Kansas City, Oct. 24.—The Chinese Minister, Mr. Alfred Sze, in a speech here today said that China's only request of the Armament Conference is the right to preserve her national existence. He said they desired to settle the Shantung question with justice to China and in accordance with the United State's open door policy.

(Special To The China Press)

Washington, Oct. 24.—The American delegates to the Disarmament Conference met today with Secretary of War Weeks and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, Admiral Coontz also being present. They refused to state the subject matter of their discussion other than that it had to do with the agenda for the Conference.

Officials generally agree that the formulation of a naval limitation program will be a serious problem even if the Disarmament Conference is successful in eliminating Far Eastern problems.

It is understood that the Navy Department has encountered great difficulties in preparing recommendations for the American delegates.

PONDER JAPAN'S PLACE

Washington, Oct. 24.—Figures have been published, obviously based on official tables, showing that when or if naval construction programs of the three great naval Powers are completed Britain will have 550 ships with a tonnage of 2,059,000, the United States 533 with a tonnage of 2,024,000 and Japan 184 with a tonnage of 1,333,000.

It is recognised that the position Japan should hold in a tripartite naval agreement will be one of the major difficulties of the Washington Conference though confidence is expressed that a solution will be found. When that point is reached the Navy Department's plan will include both a reduction in the total strength which the completion of the present program would mean, thus involving the cessation of a certain amount of construction now in progress, and the limitation of the naval strength of each Power to a figure expressible primarily in terms of capital ships and from which each Power would agree not to deviate.

An alternative scheme, which is powerfully supported, is the adoption of a financial formula under which the great naval Powers should agree to restrict the expenditure on their navies to a given sum annually.

It is impossible to say whether the administration will ultimately incline to one or the other scheme but it is certain that President Harding and his advisers believe that a considerable limitation of naval armaments can and will be promptly secured.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—In the House of Commons today Sir W. H. Davison drew attention to De Valera's telegram to the Pope and asked whether the Government in these circumstances intended to proceed with the Conference.

Mr. Lloyd George replied: I read the telegram and its publication, especially in the middle of negotiations, consitutes a grave challenge. The position of the Government on the questions involved in the telegram has been made abundantly clear and we do not intend to recede from it. The Conference cannot proceed on any other basis."

DISCUSSING FORMULA

London, Oct. 24.—The full Irish Conference has adjourned while a small committee has been appointed on the initiative of the Premier. The Premier and Mr. Austen Chamberlain are the British representatives. The committee discussed a formula defining the terms on which the Irish are prepared to continue the Conference.

Another P. I. Bank Official To Face Charge Of Estafa

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Manila, Oct. 13.—A charge of estafa, or irregularity in handling funds entrusted to him, has been filed against Mr. Guillermo Martinez, former secretary of the Philippine National Bank. It is alleged that Mr. Martinez disposed of stock in the bank, the proceeds of which were P.48,000, but failed to turn over the complete amount after the sale.

Mr. Miguel Concepcion is charged with the falsification of a commercial document. There are a number of other defendants involved in similar charges in Aparri.

Thirteen of the provincial branches of the National Bank are to be closed, according to a recent announcement. It is stated that the bank will hereafter follow the policy of discontinuing all branches which cannot be conducted profitably.

No Pied Piper Is Needed Says Local Rat Squad

By Elsie McCormick

Though times are considered dull in the port on the Whangpoo and though there has been a tendency of late to turn desk space into storage room, there are two people who, if they ever drift this way, are sure of a permanent position in Shanghai. One of them is the Pied Piper of Hamlin Town and the other is the Rat Wife in "Little Eyolf." The Pied Piper has probably been out of a position since his disagreement with the Hamlin Municipal Council and if he is still dragging all those children around with him, he will find a permanent situation doubly welcome, especially with the price of condensed milk what it is.

The little "You're another!" contest being staged by certain provinces has long pitched its tent on the front page, but the most important war in China from the standpoint of Shanghai is almost a total stranger to the linotype man. The army actually in the field, not counting the general staff behind the lines, consists of about sixty trained Chinese; the enemy force has from one to two million members in Shanghai alone. And the fight goes on every day, including race meets and Christmas, with a disregard for rain and tea-time not common in Chinese wars.

TRAPS FOR TRAPPINGS

Every day the little army of sixty sets out, with no uniform to speak of and not much equipment in the way of goose-steps or snappy salutes. Each member, however, is equipped with heavy artillery in the shape of 150 traps, his route of march carrying him through thirty Chinese houses. Any one observing his itinerary will notice that his equipment as he leaves each house, is lighter by five traps, until he emerges from the thirtieth abode as unencumbered as a nymph about to chase butterflies.

With each man setting 150 traps a day, the rat-catching squad of the Shanghai Municipal Public Health Department makes a complete round of the poorer class Chinese home and shops in the Settlement once every six weeks. Each house has the privilege of entertaining five traps over night, the daily catch averaging one casualty to ten steel springs.

Though usually willing to co-operate when the plague danger is explained, Chinese do not always hang out a "Welcome" sign for the benefit of the gentlemen doing the Nimrod act for rodents. The blue tint applied to the fried batter serving as bait usually keeps away the children, but kittens and hens have no such prejudices against any reputable member of the spectrum and it sometimes happens that the traps yield up a highly varied prey. Hence many a Chinese housfrau hastily stacks up the carefully placed traps as soon as the inspector presents a dorsal view, and innocently sets them out again three minutes before his arrival next morning.

CATS COUNTED OUT

At one time ownership of a cat was considered a sufficient rat prophylaxis, and the squad had orders that traps were not required in houses with a feline boarder. Inspectors, however, soon began to note that Shanghai was the catlovingest city in the world. Usually the pet was found anchored by a rope to the kitchen table, protesting categorically against its environment and looking astonishingly like the cat they had just interviewed in the house next door. Yes, the lady of the house assured them when the squad member called apologetic attention to the cat's unpetlike demeanor, little Pussy Willow had been the household joy for six years now and was an expert ratter.

The inspectors thereupon retired to the next house, where they found another animal bearing a startling resemblance to Pusy Willow and busily engaged in clawing up the family's young hopeful under the table. The net result of these observations

Four Planets Meet With Moon Today In House Of Virgo

(Weather permitting, the sight of Venus and Jupiter near their conjunction will be interesting—The presence of the Moon, nearby, will enable to find the group, even when the daylight increases—Siccawei Weather Report.)

Too bad that astrology is so out of date, or children born tonight might have either a most prosperous or most miserable life according to the way the soothsayer felt about it, since Venus and Jupiter are in conjunction, the moon lighting their near meeting with Saturn and Mars lurking in the background.

This might augur a saturnine-jovial disposition, perhaps with a touch of martial lunacy—so far as three of the luminaries are concerned, but with Venus to add her eminently feminine touch, there's no telling what mixups in characteristics might befall the child born tonight, perhaps the worst ill would be a tendency to conjunctivitis.

At any rate, though the old lore of the astrologer has long been relegated to the limbo of Philistia, yet those who are awake at 5 o'clock this—or tomorrow—morning will see the two brightest orbs in the eastern heavens separated by less than the breadth of a finger, even when the finger is held at arm's length.

The upper and brighter is Venus, now morning star, soon to pass below the plane of the sun and become evening star again. Jupiter, moving around his orbit in 12 of our years, will take some time to pass through the constellation of Virgo.

In this house of the Zodiac once sacred to cerea four principal planets, Mars, Saturn, Venus and Jupiter now are gathered, to say nothing of the moon, so that the star-gazer of old might have said, this season should have a decidedly feminine influence.

KARL'S SECOND DASH ON CROWN FAILS--ANDRASSY ARRESTED; SEEK OTHERS

Fate Of Hapsburg Scion Now Being Discussed By Powers And Little Entente—His Troops Are Reported Surrounded And Former Emperor's Surrounding Is Demanded By Hungarian Government

Karl And Zita Held In Totis Castle Pending Decision As To His Fate—Court Martial Ordered For All His Military And Political Advisors

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—The latest reports from Budapest, which, although not confirmed officially, are nevertheless supported by circumstantial details from several sources, describe the flight of the Royalist troops after a battle at Komorn, abandoning Karl and Zita to the Government troops. The couple are now guarded by troops in Totis Castle.

KARL'S TROOPS ENCIRCLED

Vienna, Oct. 24.—Karl's troops are practically encircled and have been seized with panic. Many have been captured. Karl with his bodyguard hastily entrained and fled to Komorn.

The Hungarian Government has announced that there is no further likelihood of military action as Karl is without a prospect of strengthening his forces.

The Government has demanded Karl's unconditional surrender, his internment in Hungary pending the decision of the Allies and final abdication on behalf of himself and his son.

It has also ordered the trial by court martial of his military and political advisers.

ANDRASSY IS ARRESTED

Budapest, Oct. 25.—Count Julius Andrassy has been arrested and warrants have been issued for the apprehension of the rest of the provisional government.

A discussion is proceeding between the Hungarian Government, the Entente and the representatives of the Little Entente regarding Karl's fate.

Paris, Oct. 24.—The Conference of Ambassadors has instructed the representatives of the Allies at Budapest to summon the Hungarian Government to proclaim the deposition of Karl, to seize him and expel him from Hungary, otherwise the Allies disavow responsibility for the possible consequences to Hungary.

Reports have reached the Conference that the situation in Hungary is becoming more serious. Karl's forces are nearing the capital and are meeting with little resistance.

KARLISTS REPULSED

London, Oct. 24.—An official telegram to London from Budapest states that yesterday evening the Hungarian Premier told the British Minister that the situation was steadily improving. The Karlists had been driven considerably further from Budapest. Fresh Government troops were arriving and it was hoped to encircle the Karlists.

The Government considers it most important to get Karl out of Hungary without delay but is anxious to know whither he should be sent when caught. Budapest is strongly patrolled and quiet.

ITALY ISSUES DENIAL

Paris, Oct. 24.—With reference to the statements that Karl's coup was inspired by Italy's pro-Magyar policy, the Italian Embassy emphatically denies the existence of an agreement between Hungary and Italy with a view to the restoration of Karl or that Italy is a party to any agreement, directed against other Powers.

TROOPS DESERT KARL

Vienna, Oct. 23.—The events in Hungary are difficult to appraise owing to the interruption of telephonic communication. Rumors are current that Karl has already entered Budapest. Defections among the Government troops are reported in several cases, notably that of the whole garrison at Oedenburg and part of the Budapest garrison. Karl's forces are estimated to be three divisions and Admiral Horthy's about the same.

FIGHT STILL ON

London, Oct. 24.—According to a telegram from Budapest fighting is still proceeding between the Karlists and the Government troops, who hope to hold out until the arrival of reinforcements. The insurgents from Burgenland are stated to be marching against the Government. The Government has entrusted to the ex-Minister, Abbe Vass, the task of inviting Karl to leave the country immediately.

SOLDIERS HAIL "KING"

Vienna, Oct. 22.—The British Minister, Sir J. Lindley, last night received news of Karl's arrival in West Hungary and informed the Chancellor, who summoned a midnight conference of the political leaders.

The troops at Oerenburg joined Karl immediately he arrived and proclaimed him King. A report of a march on Budapest is not confirmed.

Telegraphic and telephonic communication as well as railway communication with West Hungary is interrupted.

LITTLE ENTENTE TALKS

Prague, Oct. 24.—After a Cabinet Council it was semi-officially stated yesterday that the Little Entente was determined to secure a definitive settlement of the Hapsburg question and had communicated with the Allies in that sense.

SURPRISED AT SWISS

London, Oct. 22.—Information received by the Foreign Office states that Colonel Osztenburg's battalion at Oedenburg has been ordered to accompany Karl by train to Budapest. General Hedegus, who is accompanying Karl, has asked the Interallied Commission to remain at Oedenburg to guarantee its security.

A battalion of the Hungarian National Army has been urgently recalled from the frontier to relieve Colonel Osztenburg's troops. The question of the transfer of Burgenland to Austria will be decided by a new Hungarian Administration, headed by M. Radoveki, assisted by M. Cratz, the former Foreign Minister, and Counts Julius Andrassy and Albert Apponyi.

Reuter's Agency is informed that the fact that the Swiss Government allowed Karl to leave Switzerland has caused intense surprise. It is recalled that the Allied Governments have repeatedly declared that no Hapsburg will be allowed to return to the throne of Austria or Hungary.

RUIN SAYS HORTHY

Budapest, Oct. 24.—Admiral Horthy has issued a proclamation to the National Army, declaring that only the Regent can authorise the transfer of power to "His Majesty, King Charles the Fourth," and to do so at present would mean the ruin of the country, therefore he expects all members of the National Army to re-

TRADE MISSION FROM AMERICA STILL ON WAY

California's trade delegation to the Far East probably will not be entertained in Shanghai until the first week in the coming month, as later advices concerning the movements of the party received yesterday state that only a portion of the delegation will arrive on the Pacific Mail Liner Empire State. The vessel which was expected in early today will not arrive until tomorrow morning.

According to word from Japan many of the delegates after making a stay in Japanese cities, are going through Korea and Peking before coming to Shanghai to join the ship and continue their tour southward to Manila and Hongkong. The Empire State is to remain in port here for five days after its arrival tomorrow morning and will sail for the south on November 3.

While those who are coming on the Empire State will be welcomed by American officials and representatives of American commercial bodies on their arrival tomorrow the general public entertainment of the whole Mission is to be deferred until the entire party is in Shanghai which will be in the latter part of the coming week. Informal receptions will be given for the visitors arriving tomorrow.

An office has been established at Ichang and during his absence General Wu has appointed the commander of the sixth brigade of the ninth division to take charge of it.

He is said to be assured of support from the tuchuns of Kiangsi and Kiangsu in the way of military supplies and provisions, while the vacancies in his army will be filled by recruiting fresh soldiers. On the naval side of the defence the Chihli general is trying to increase the forces of the second fleet and is said to have filed an order with a certain engineering firm in Shanghai for twenty-four auxiliary ships.

MAY PUNISH CANTON

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Oct. 21.—Hsiao Yao-nan and Wu Pei-fu are now outlining their program to cope withe the reported aggressive expedition against Peking of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the Canton President. Both Wu and Hsiao have been instructed by Peking to take precautions for defense of the central provinces and to get sufficiently prepared to face the situation in the event of its becoming serious.

The first step decided upon by Wu is to re-ascertain the attitude of the central provinces and then to distribute northern troops among them for defense purposes. The next step likely to be taken will be the launching of a punitive expedition against Canton, if Sun Yat-sen really throws down the gauntlet on Peking. The latter step will involve a wider scope including the reunification of the country.

DENY MUTINY REPORT

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 20.—Reports That 30,000 troops of General Chang Wei-ti, ex-Lord of Jehol, are on the point of mutiny at Tungchow, just outside Peking, is emphatically denied, both by authorities within the city, and foreign residents at Tungchow. It is known now on excellent authority that the troops of the Jehol general are still north of the Great Wall.

The reports were rife that the troops had not been paid in many months and that they were on the point of breaking out in a mutiny. Foreign official sources are of the opinion that these mutiny rumors were concocted by interested parties, to force the Salt Administration to release some funds from the salt surplus.

DAIREN PARLEY PROGRESSES

Wu Pei-fu also signified in the wire his intention of returning to Hankow via Yochow on October 20.

While in conversation with Mr. Chen Chieh, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs of Hankow who has recently returned from Ichang, General Wu Pei-fu pointed out the timely need of healing China's troubles and dissensions by convocating a national conference, and according to Commissioner Chen, Wu Pei-fu is still very firm in his belief of a National convention.

YEE GETS REWARD

Yee Ping-zung, who boarded with his aunt, Wong Ah-sz, for two months, withdrew with a lot of Mmie. Wong's wardrobe and without paying his board, and then returned to plant a lot of counterfeit money in the Wong domicile and turn in a charge of counterfeiting to the police, drew his reward at the Mixed Court yesterday.

Since his arrest Yee had implicated another man, one Sung Ah-yoon, of Frenchtown. While in jail he informed the police that he was sorry for bringing false charges against his aunt and wished to make a full confession. He had obtained the spurious money from Sung and because his aunt's flirtations with a coolie had caused him to lose face, he had concocted the plot to bring about her arrest. When he got into court yesterday Yee had a further attack of conscience. He then confessed that Sung had nothing to do with supplying the counterfeit coins and stated that they had been given him by an ambiguous party named Tsang.

Two years' imprisonment was what the court deemed appropriate in Yee's case, to be followed by banishment from the Settlement.

Harding Has High Hopes Of Conference's Success

Washington, Oct. 12.—A month of careful preparation for America's part in the Limitation of Armaments Conference began today with the first meeting of the American delegates. The diplomatic, military and naval data already have been compiled.

A hint at President Harding's hopes was given as the delegates assembled by the publication of a letter sent by the president to Miss Ella L. Freed of Brooklyn, replying toher plea that President Harding should work for universal disarmament. The letter said:

"It was very erroneous ever to suggest that we contemplate going so far as universal disarmament. If we can get a reasonable limitation we shall think great things have been accomplished. By reasonable limitations I mean something practicable that there is a chance to accomplish.

"Thousands read in history regarding this controversy of mankind and suggest that human nature would require revolution and reorganisation to make universal disarmament possible.

"There is considerable protest and it is stated that the world must sink force, make concession and be unhopeful of the time to undertake that kind of a revolution. On the other hand, the world with the horrors of the recent experiences seared into their minds and staggering under loads of armaments, far more generously justified our hope for a favorable attitude toward practical efforts and the sincere beginning we are about to undertake, than the impossible, and we have a fall right to have our last hate worse than our first attitude. If the nations warrant confidence, we will not fail, but rather substantial rules will be accomplished that are calculated to reduce the danger of armed conflict. I feel that in such efforts we are entirely supported by all the people who would be thankful to see still more accomplished if possible."

The tentative agenda submitted by the United States has not been definitely accepted, but officials view optimistically the circumstance that there have been no objections and believe the list may be regarded as a modus viverdi. It was reveaaled today that the United States recently suggested as an additional subject that "electrical communications on the Pacific" be considered under the general topic of mandated islands.

It is expected this will give the powers an opportunity to consider the whole subject of communications in the Far East and may have particular application to Yap where the United States desires to establish a wireless station.

There have been indications that particularly the wireless question is nearing a solution through diplomatic exchanges and that it may be eliminated as a conference sub-

MANDATES OFF AGENDA

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Mr. Ormsby Gore, Mr. Cecil Harmsworth stated that the only reply the Government had received from the United States with regard to the draft A. & B. mandates was the Note of September 6, stating the United States' view. The Government was now engaged in discussions with the other mandatories. The matter was not on the agenda of the Washington Conference.

SARRAUT TAKES AIDES

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, October 24.—M. Albert Sarraut, Minister of the Colonies, has appointed the following officials to accompany him to Washington and to assist him in his work as a delegate to the Conference: M. Touzzet, Chief of Department in the Colonial Ministry, M. Duchene, Director of Political Affairs in the Ministry, and M. Garan, Director of the Economic Agency of Indo-China.

MUST ADJUST BALANCE

Paris, October 24.—The Temps states that Europe does not suspect with what impatience the American people are awaiting the opening of the Disarmament Conference. President Harding's initiative is a response to the aspirations of the whole American nation. Mr. Harding has made it clearly understood that it is no longer the time for more or less abstract speculations and he hopes that the Conference will force the new policy, which must adjust the balance of world power.

Plan International Control Of The C.E.R After Conference

Harbin.—Colonel John Stevens, Chief of the Inter-Allied Railway technical board at Harbin, left here for the United States on the 14th instant via Japan to attend the Washington Conference in an advisory capacity in connection with the discussion of the reorganisation and administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway and during his absence, Colonel Johnson will act for him. As the Russo-Asiatic Bank is interested in this important railway, American capitalists are discussing certain measures for its reorganisation in conjunction with Franco-Russian bankers.

It is an open secret now that an international board of control over the traffic and accounting departments will be established after the conference so as to enable a profitable working of the line while at the same time Chinese sovereign rights of the territory through which the C. E. R runs and Russian interests as the principal owner of the line will be fully respected by the Powers. It is believed that after reorganisation, the C. E. R. will recover its pre-war prosperity to the immense advantages of North Manchuria and Siberia.

CONCEPCION PLEA IS 'NOT GUILTY' IN BANK ACTION

General Venancio Concepcion, former president of the Philippine National bank, and Manuel S. Concepcion, assistant general manager of the same institution, pleaded not guilty on October 18 to the charges of estafa filed against them by City Fiscal Torres. They were arraigned before Judge Simplicio del Rosario of the court of first instance. They are accused of failure to turn in to the bank all the proceeds from a sale of its shares.

The case was to be opened for trial October 20 in the first branch of the court of first instance when the testimony of Juan Martinez, one of the principal witness for the prosecution, was to be taken in view of the fact that he is soon to sail for Spain. Mr. Martinez was the broker who, according to the complaint, sold the 2,000 Philippine National Bank shares which constitute the main basis of the charges, to Manuel S. Concepcion.

Four new attorneys entered their names as counsels for the accused at the first hearing. These are Judge Atreu, Attorneys Felipe Buencamino, Jr., Angel Roco and Attorney Varona, who will handle the side of Manuel S. Concepcion. General Concepcion has retained the services of his former attorneys in the two other cases against him, namely, General Thomas L. Hartigan, Attorney Thomas Cary Welch, Attorney Francisco Villanueva and Attorney Recaredo Ma. Calvo.

Doctor Hodgkins Urges Christian Principles In Business In Shanghai

Rules That Should Govern Commercial Life Are Set Forth Eloquently In Second Lecture Of Series At Lyceum Theater

Why the principles of Christianity should be applied here in the commercial world of Shanghai was explained with telling force to a large aldience at the lyceum theater yesterday afternoon by Dr. H. T. Hodgkin who is giving a series of afternoon addresses at the Lyceum this week on the general subject of "The Salvaging of Civilisation."

In his opening address on Monday Doctor Hodgkin spoke on the question, "Has Christianity Failed?" and in his address yesterday he dealt with the question, "Can it Be Applied to Commerce?" Rear Admiral G. H. Borrett C. B. acted as Chairman and gave a brief introductory address.

In the course of his address Doctor Hodgkin presented arguments to prove that unless the principles of Christianity are brought into play in commercial life generally then the very existence of civilisation itself will be menaced and a permanent structure of social life cannot be realised.

STATES CONDITIONS

He asserted that it was needful to have a full understanding of the principles to which he referred in order to understand their operation and after pointing out how the future progress of the world and the general welfare of society at large depends upon commerce and industry, he said that unless high purpose and principle can be brought into play in the commercial world then the future outlook of that world is dark. He added that that if the principles of Christianity cannot be applied to the commercial world then these principles must be held to be unsuitable for the needs of the world.

The speaker chose four principles of Christianity as peculiarly applicable to commercial life of the world and necessarily applicable in Shanghai and the first of these he said was Christian faith. Applied to the world of commerce and industry he said these translated themselves as meaning absolute honesty and truthfulness—a man-to-man dealing covered in the commercial world under the term of 'credit.' He dwelt upon the fact that this principle already has been accepted in a general way, for the whole structure of world commerce may be said to rest upon credit.

He proceeded to the second principle, not so generally accepted and practiced, that of service. While pointing out that the common aims of commerce today resolved themselves into ends for common gain and personal profit he emphasised that a higher principle should actuate commercial leaders for their own ultimate good and that this should take the form of service.

THE HUMAN UNIT

The principle of human worth the third that he dwelt upon, was no less important, for he asserted that we will not be able to build a stable society unless the value of the individual is gauged and recognised. The fourth principle that should be applied to the commercial life was that of an acceptance of the unity of human life recognising the value of the individual in the works of the world and the need of universal co-operation.

For the application of the principles of Christianity he said it was necessary to have a knowledge of commercial life and as he emphasised later, he said this was no task for any individual or for any single group, as the problem presented every element of difficulty and complexity.

As an illustration of his meaning of knowing about the commercial life about us he read from the report of one of Shanghai's cotton concerns—commonplace in its way which related that while on three occasions the company had realised profits in a year equal to its capitalisation it paid to skilled labor from 35 coppers to 65 coppers a day and the little girls who worked the factory's shift of twelve hours daily received from seven to ten coppers a day.

TELL DIFFICULTIES

The speaker emphasised that he meant in no way to criticise individuals, companies or interests, but he pointed out that it was needful, if Christian principles are to be applied, that the child toilers in Shanghai mills must be regarded in just the same way that the more happily placed children of the owners of these mills are regarded. He went on to say that he realised that many employers of workers realised fully the intense difficulty of the problem of dealing righteously with their workers.

From his own known experience he told of example after example of employers—those in the privileged place—who had set about to solve the problem. While he told of one example in particular in which the purely commercial gains had been considerable in an American plant in which every consideration for the worker had been shown he said also that desperate risks must be taken that certain losses may have to be faced, but he pointed out that gain should not be the end of any man.

Things achieved by employers in England formed a considerable part of what he said and he gave an illustration of how workers responded when it was recognised that an adequate wage for those employed in an industry should be a first charge against that industry and not the percentage of dividends.

The third of Doctor Hodgkin's lectures, the full value of which cannot be condensed into any single newspaper report, is to be given this afternoon and will be on the question, "Can Religion Be Applied to Politics?"

Commercial Bodies End Sessions Today

The National Union of Chambers of Commerce, which has held thirteen sessions in the hall of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce will conclude its conference today.

Matters discussed yesterday included the income tax, revenue stamps on pawn shop bills, unification of the wine and tobacco tax, use of the silver dollar as a standard, the prohibition of lotteries, selection of a headquarters for the Union, formation of volunteer corps, revision of the laws governing the chambers of commerce and the suppression of light weight copper coins.

HONGKONG SLAVE GIRL SYSTEM IS BEFORE COMMONS

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Mr. Gedeon Murray, Mr. Wood, the Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Colonies, stated that he Governor of Hongkong had been asked to report on the desirability or otherwise of appointing a commission of enquiry into the Muitsai system in Hongkong.

He said that he would consider the steps the Government might usefully take in this matter on receiving the Governor's report. He pointed out that the sale of girls to become inmates of disorderly resorts was strictly forbidden under "The Protection of Women and Girls Ordinance."

The fact that it has been found impracticable to enforce legislation in China on the muitsai question seemed to be an argument against similar legislation in Hongkong apart from other considerations involved.

HARBIN IN FEAR OF ARMED CLASH

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, October 20.—The political atmosphere in Harbin is again becoming somewhat strained as a result of persistently spread rumors that the Chinese Command is making military preparations and of the possibility of the D.V.R. troops, now strongly concentrated near the Manchurian frontier, entering the Railway zone under pretext of defending the lives and property of Russian citizens threatened by the Hunghutze and the generally disturbed conditions.

Although both Yourin and other representatives of the D.V.R. Government have frequently denied the possibility of such an invasion and have even gone as far as to point out that the rumors spread to this effect are of a purely provocative character, the rumor is still in circulation and is frequently referred to not only by the right, but also by the left press.

Although the work of the Mukden Conference is kept secret certain reports concerning this Conference, which have leaked out and reached Harbin, seem to indicate that General Chang Tso-lin does not regard such a complication of the Far Eastern problem as utterly impossible and is prepared to take defensive measures.

Information obtained both from Railway and other sources indicates that a large number of individuals, strongly suspected of being Bolshevik agents, have recently arrived at Harbin and the neighborhood, where, it is believed, they intend to spread their propaganda amongst the workmen, who recently were showing a strong inclination towards recovery from the revolutionary fever.

It is said that General Chang's recent inspection of troops in the Railway zone has proved that some of this propaganda has already been spread amongst the troops but as yet without success.

The fact that the Representatives of the Japanese Command are at present at the Mukden Conference is explained here by Japan's desire to conclude a defensive agreement with General Chang Tso-lin.

WHO BROKE CARS CARRYING FOOD NOW IS QUESTION

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, October 20.—On the morning of the day when the first train of food supplies for Russia, collected by the local Relief Committee, was to leave Harbin an inspecting agent discovered serious defects in the cars, which were carefully inspected the day before and proved to be in excellent condition.

The General Manager of the Railway who was informed of the case, ordered the cars to be repaired immediately and the train despatched at the fixed hour. The case has aroused general interest.

Whereas the left press accuses the reactionaries, the Right press points out that the preliminary investigation proved that the men who had done the damage were Communists and that consequently the case was planned with the object of provoking an outburst of indignation against the Rights. An official investigation is proceeding.

was a new ordinance making traps compulsory, cat or no cat. Incidentally, there was an immediate and heavy falling off in the popularity of feline pets throughout the Settlement.

NO BONUS, NO RATTERIES

Another important factor in the work of plague prevention is the examination of deceased animals brought in to the Health Department by the humble garbage coolie. The removers of kitchen refuse are given no bonus for dead rats, as this would mean heavy encores on the part of corpses and a repetition of the Hongkong experience. When the southern city set a price on the scalp of each rodent, the number of rats became so great that an investigation was made and it was discovered that a number of coolies had gone into the business of raising them. Several flourishing little rat hatcheries were raided, their proprietors had a secluded ride in the commodious depths of the Black Maria, and the bonus offer was solemnly withdrawn by the city authorities.

Though Shanghai coolies have no inducement to go into the steady business of presenting souvenir rats to the Health Department, their wages are out if they fail to discover a reasonable number of defunct rodents. Refuse coolies report with their rats at a certain hour each morning, the animals are transferred to the laboratories, and blood tests are made to discover indications of plague. Of 17,450 rats examined in 1920, only two were found to be plague-infected. The spots where these two were discovered are still marked with a splash of red on the rat map of the city displayed in an office of the Health Department, indications being that the plague-carriers escaped from a ship moored in the Whangpoo.

RATS PLAGUELESS HERE

Due to the work of the Health Office, there has been no case of bubonic plague in Shanghai since 1915. During the past ten months the laboratory tests have not even revealed an infected rat. It was in 1909, after an epidemic scare, that the department began to rebuild Chinese houses at its own expense. Gaps of three feet discovered between the floor and the ground were filled up, and spaces between ceiling and upstairs floor were eliminated by removal of the ceiling. The regulation prohibiting food-shops from having a closed ceiling is still in force, such spaces having served formerly as social settlements and neighborhood houses for all the rats of the district.

"No food, no rats," says the Health Department succinctly. "If housekeepers, both foreign and Chinese, will see that all potential rat fodder is kept under cover, most of the two million will pack up and move." Winter, incidentally, is the open season for bubonic plague and health officials redouble their precautions in the cold months.

"The kangaroo is a rodent," our geography used to say. Judging from the size of some specimens we have observed, we feel justified in adding that Shanghai rodents are often kangaroos.

HARBOR MEN SET STRENUOUS PACE IN STUDY HERE

The strenuous course of activity which the Committee of Consulting Engineers now engaged in the Shanghai Harbor investigation has mapped out for itself is seen in a review of the work gone through since the sessions began a week ago.

Since the opening session, when the members were officially welcomed by the Board, headed by Mr. Hsu Yuan, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, there have been seven sittings of the Committee. The Chairmanship was voted to Mr. H. von Heidenstam and at the same meeting Major-General W. M. Black was chosen Senior Member of the Committee to represent the members generally.

When in Shanghai, the Committee has been in session both forenoon and afternoon. In addition, a first trip has already been made to the outer reaches of the Yangtsze Estuary and to Hangchow Bay, when the Committee was accompanied by the Harbor Master, Captain Myhre, and other members of the Board.

STUDY REPORTS CLOSELY

In these preliminary sessions the members have gone over very closely the reports prepared for them by Mr. von Heidenstam and the Conservancy Board staff in order to acquire a complete knowledge of local general and technical conditions and alternative possibilities, and to lay the foundations from which they will be able to set forth their own recommendations after further study.

The members left again Monday morning for a second trip during the course of which the upper reaches of the Whangpoo are being investigated as well as the Northern shore of the Hangchow Bay. They are expected to return today or tomorrow when the Committee's deliberations will be resumed.

As an example of the way in which the members are approaching their work it may be mentioned that on the morning of their return from the first trip—at about 7 a.m. —the members sat down at 9:30 a.m. for a lengthy session which save for a short recess for luncheon, did not terminate until 6 p.m.

DISCUSS SHIP DRAFTS

During the week among the subjects considered were the future maximum draft of ships on the Pacific, the depths necessary to admit such ships, and the approach routes by which such depths might be obtainable. This involved discussion of the Yangtsze and Hangchow Bay approaches. The economic question was also considered, including the possible benefits of harbor improvement and the sources of revenue available or possible in the future. The various projects, old and new, were preliminarily studied. No final decisions on any important points were arrived at, but there was a general agreement as to the absolute necessity of a definite harbor policy for the future.

The present excursion of the experts takes them into the lake region of the upper Whangpoo and they are also gathering data on the cross-over from the river to Hangchow Bay.

Wedding

FENSTAMAKER-MONTGOMERY

Miss Helen Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Montgomery of San Francisco, and Harry Fenstamaker of Spokane were quietly married August 8, in the Blue room of the Vancouver hotel, Vancouver, B. C. Miss Montgomery and Mr. Fenstamaker met for the first time two years ago in Shanghai.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Mr. Ross of Vancouver in the presence of a small group of friends of the bride and bridegroom. The bride was attended by Mrs. W. M. Percefield of Vancouver, and Lieutenant Percefield acted as best man.

The couple were married before an altar of roses and lilies of the valley, flanked on each side with tall brass vases filled with roses.

The bride wore an attractive gown of white taffeta, with a Venetian lace overdrape. A veil of point lace was caught at the forehead with orange blossoms and silver ribbons. Her bouquet was of King orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Percefield wore white georgette with a lace overdrape. She carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley.

TO LIVE IN SHANGHAI

Mr. and Mrs. Fenstamaker are to return the first of the year to Shanghai, the scene of their first meeting two years ago.

At Shanghai Mr. Fenstamaker will operate through the branch office of the Guaranty corporation of Seattle, of which he is vice-president and general manager. They will make their home in Spokane until the first of the year.

FIRST BRITISH DIVORCE SUIT IS HEARD HERE

Supreme Court Sits In Case Of Singer vs. Singer

The first divorce proceedings to be heard in a British Court in China were begun yesterday when an action brought by Mrs. Lena Singer against William James Singer came to trial before Chief Judge Skinner Turner in the British Supreme Court.

The suit is based on charges of infidelity and cruelty and the evidence adduced yesterday was chiefly that of the petitioner, Mr. T. Wing appeared for Mrs. Singer while Mr. R. F. C. Master appeared on behalf of the intervener, a Mrs. Archer.

This being the first case brought under the regulation extending the jurisdiction in such matters to British Courts in China, the question of jurisdiction was extensively gone into by Judge Skinner Turner. It was necessary, the Court stated, that the matter be carefully considered in this initial proceedings. As it was understood by him, and it had not been argued that any other interpretation was possible—the Court's jurisdiction depended upon the domicile of the parties being in that country, no matter where they were married. In these circumstances he had gone into the question at somewhat greater length than might be necessary hereafter. The domicile of the wife, in ordinary circumstances, the court held to be that of the husband.

IS DOMICILED HERE

Counsel for the petitioner sought to bring out that the respondent's domicile was China. The respondent, according to the testimony, and his own evidence, came to China at the age of nine and, so far as present prospects indicated, was domiciled in this country. The respondent, testifying, expressed a wish to return to England but, in the light of the evidence adduced, this was not held to weigh, since he admitted that he had no present prospects of returning.

The evidence showed that the couple were married in Harbin on August 2, 1913. Singer at that time was connected with the Chinese Post Office here, subsequently being transferred to Hoihow and then to Hongkong. He was discharged from the service and at various times was employed by Reiss & Co., by the Shanghai Health Department, the Cotton Testing House, the British Cigarette Company and the Taikoo Sugar Refinery. Mrs. Singer's testimony gave him a continuous record of drunkenness and cruelty, with the exception of periods when he was away from her—he went to South Africa with coolie battalions during late 1917 and early 1918.

The adultery specifically charged is alleged to have taken place while the couple were living at 24 Seward Road and when Mrs. Archer, after the death of her child, had been invited to spend the night in the home. Other evidence of infidelity was also introduced and Mr. R. C. Faithfull testified that while acting for the respondent in Hongkong he had found two Japanese women in the respondent's residence.

The respondent, questioning his wife while she was in the witness box, denied categorically the charges set forth in her petition.

The case was adjourned until today.

An appreciative doctor wrote:—

"Lady——was placed under my care for the voyage Home. I could not accept any responsibility as I considered she was in great danger from haemorrhage should she vomit. She had always been a very bad sailor. As a precaution she was given two capsules of 'KIRBY'S SEA-SICK CURE' immediately she went on board. We got into rough water shortly before midnight, but Lady——had an undisturbed night's rest. She took one capsule half-an-hour before dressing. She had breakfast in the dining hall, and assured me she had no sensation of nausea or sickness. Although we had rough weather for five days, and at other periods of the voyage, she was not sea-sick. There was no nausea of any kind, and the remedy produced no after-effects."

Titania Beats Fuhtan 3-0 In Roughly Played Match; S.M.P. Play St. Johns Today

Jewish Club And Shanghai Football Club Hold Annual General Meetings This Evening; Plan Rapidly Shaping For Saturday's Opening Of Season

The British navy soccer team rounded out their Shanghai season of football yesterday afternoon by winning over the Fuhtan university by a score of 3-0. The game was roughly played, particularly by the college boys. The sailors however, as per their usual style showed fine tolerance and won out by their keener and more clever tactics.

The Titania and her four submarines are sailing away today for Nimrod Sound, Amoy, Hongkong and within the month will be relieved by a new complement of men and sail for home. They have furnished Shanghai football clubs an excellent opportunity for practice during the training period, and Shanghai extends their appreciation to them for their gentlemanly participation in the good old game.

The Navy during the past ten days have played the Customs, the Recs and the Police. They beat the latter two in close matches, and lost to the Customs by a score of 3-2. They have been a big factor in rounding out the Shanghai elevens in the preliminary practice.

POLICE vs. ST. JOHN'S

The Eleven of the Shanghai Municipal Police will meet the team of St. John's University at the college grounds today with the kick off set for 3:30 o'clock.

The following have been selected to represent the police: Cameron, McDanold, Quayle, Munson, G. E. Knight, Crowley, Hotchkiss, Ling, Watson, Carnell and Worwood.

JEWISH R. C. MEET TODAY

The Jewish Recreation Club will hold its annual general meeting at 5:30 p.m. today at the Shanghai Jewish School, 43-4 Whangpoo Road. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Officers will be elected for the coming year, accounts will be passed, and the report of last year's meeting will be read. An important point coming up for discussion is the question as to whether the club shall enter a team in the second division of the football league.

S. F. C. ALSO MEET

The Shanghai Football Club also holds its annual general meeting this evening. The S. F. C. men meet at the Rowing club at 5:15 o'clock. All members are urged to be out to conclude the usual arrangements for the commencing of the new season.

S.V.C. ORGANISE FOR FOOTBALL SUNDAY LEAGUE

Meeting Tomorrow To Conclude Arrangements For New Sport Schedule

The Shanghai Volunteer Corps, it is expected will organise a football league for matches on Sunday afternoon, at a meeting to be held tomorrow evening at Major Pilcher's flat at No. 5 Jinkee Road, at 5:15 o'clock. A preliminary meeting of S.V.C. members supporting the Corps league idea held Tuesday showed a general feeling of enthusiasm and promise of support.

The idea set forth at Tuesday's meeting, was that one match should be played on each Sunday afternoon on the Recreation Ground and-or the Railway Ground at Markham Road. Each Unit is to provide its own colors and will pay an entrance fee of $5 to defray expenses. The Shanghai Football Club have offered to assist with equipment if needed. They have also offered the use of their ground, goal posts and nets, and two balls for each Sunday.

While there are some Units which cannot enter a full team, it is understood that there are some enthusiastic men in nearly all Units. Where this is so permission will be given to combine forces. The local Clergy have been approached for their support, on the condition that these matches do not interfere with Church Services.

The Commandant and those officers who have been approached, consider that this should be a means of stimulating interest in the Corps and its work, and in order to make it the success it should be, every unit should be represented in the competition. At present there is difinite promise of five Units entering teams.

Units in favor of this proposition are requested to send the name of a representative who can be present at a meeting at which a Committee will be formed under the Chairmanship of Major Pilcher. The meeting will be held in Major Pilcher's Flat, No. 5 Jinkee Road on Thursday at 5:15 p.m. Names of representatives are to be sent in before noon on Thursday.

PLANS SHAPING FOR BIG SEASON OF BASKET BALL

Problem Of Floors To Hold Contests Arranged For Teams Forming

Plans for the Foreign Basketball League are gradually taking shape. One of the chief problems that comfronted the committee was the question of playing floors but this seems to be on the way now to a satisfactory settlement.

The majority of the games will probably be played on the Rowing Club and Y.M.C.A. floors with some at the Shanghai College gymnasium.

Both the Rowing Club and the Y.M.C.A. floors are available for games on condition that all the members of at least one of the competing teams be members of the organisation where the game is played.

This means that all players except those on the Shanghai College team must be members of either the Rowing Club or the Y.M.C.A. Arrangements have been made with the latter whereby a membership can be secured for merely the duration of the basketball season. The Y.M.C.A. has also made a special offer to the Shanghai American School and Public School teams.

Rowing Club members are now chiefly concerned with Regatta matters but after this week will be ready to form definite teams. A meeting will soon be called of all foreign members of the Y.M.C.A. who wish to play basketball and at that time plans will be made as to the number of teams the Association will form among its membership. Prospective teams and players are asked to take the above facts into consideration in making application for entrance into the League.

Harriers And Police To Plan Races Tomorrow

Representatives of the Harriers and the Police Athletic Club will meet at the North Szechuen police station tomorrow evening to discuss plans for a one mile open championship race and a one mile schoolboys race to be held some Saturday afternoon next month.

Sergeants Knight, Sale, and Ling will represent the police and C. C. Reneman, H. F. L. Wilson and T. McKenna, the Harriers.

OPENING DAY OF REGATTA GIVEN AT TIENTSIN

International Fours Won By Americans After Nip And Tuck Contest

Tientsin, Oct. 23.—The Tientsin Rowing Club's fall regatta opened yesterday with five races, and will be completed today with the rowing of five more. There were some startling surprises to trainers and coaches and fans, which, however, gave greater interest to the sport.

The first event, the Tientsin Long Fours, went to the Cokes Riflis four after steady and excellent rowing, over the Chandless four which got into an unfavorable current and lost the lead gained early in the race. The K. M. A. four was third.

The international fours, which furnished the greatest interest of the afternoon, went to the American team over the British, after a nip and tuck race, with positions changing throughout. The Americans got off first with an even slow 28 stroke, and though the English team overtook them once, they held to their stride, and won by a length. The British rowed nervously, and followed a zig zag course. Babcock stroked the American crew.

The Tub Sculls went to Morton who took the lead from the start and stayed ahead, winning without strain. Lattimore was second. Both men kept a true course.

The fourth event, the Heavy Fours saw the T.R.C. boat badly steered fouling a raft of lumber through bad steering and losing the lead they had that far maintained. The British ship Hollyhock after excellent work won the event.

The final of the first day was an easy win for Bridges team due to zig zagging by Gwynne's team.

2nd innings, 62

Forrest, Yokohama, made 117 runs; Abraham, Kobe 86; Scott, Yokohama 55, not out; and Scott, Yokohama 42. Yokohama's batting and their bowling in the second innings won the match.

Late Gridiron Results All Carry Surprises; Yale Is Best In The East To Date

Dan Kulp, One Of Walter Camp's Elevens, Returns To Shanghai; Probably Will Be Out With Local Eleven; And Giauque Also Will Play During Holidays

Belated telegrams reporting Saturday's football games in America covering the Big Three in the East and Stanford in the Far West carry with them surprises in every instance.

They follow:

Yale 14; Army 7
Chicago 9, Princeton 0.
Harvard 21, Pennsylvania State 21.
Pacific Fleet 8, Stanford 7.

Yale a week ago beat North Caroline 34-0, Princeton beat Colgate 19-0 and Harvard won over Indiana 19-0.

With the Navy beating Princeton Oct. 15 15-0, and the Army playing Yale Saturday to a 7-14 lose, it would appear that the Annapollis men would maintain their preponderance of wins in the Army-Fleet classic.

Yale appears to have the best record of the Eastern elevens for the early season. On the face of available telegrams, the score quoted between Harvard and Penn. State at 21-all doesn't look right to one in China, considering that last week the Cambridge men were reported as having beaten the Pennsy men by an unquoted score. Princeton by losing to Chicago loses somewhat its standing with the other big teams of the east.

KULP BACK IN SHANGHAI

Dan Kulp, former star Brown University guard and on one of Walter Camp's All-America eleven, is back in Shanghai and will probably be "among those present" at the Polo Field when the American civilian football eleven holds its future practice sessions.

Kulp is Professor of Sociology at Shanghai College and in addition is the founder and moving spirit of the Yangtszepoo Social Center. Kulp turned out one of the first American football teams made up of Chinese boys and has encouraged inter-class football of the Yankee variety at the College. He has been in America doing graduate work for two years.

Pete Dorrance, University of Michigan star, will be down from Soochow to play with the locals in the season's big games.

Charlie Giauque, now principal of the Tsingtao Institute and former Oberlin captain, who was one of the stars on the eleven a year ago, will be available during the Christmas vacation when two games will be scheduled and with Kulp and Dorrance, the cits will have three great men.

Dorrance was a member of the famous Maulbeutsch - Hughitt eleven beaten by Harvard 7-0 and Dan Kulp was on the Sprackling aggregation which trounced Harvard 6-0 not too many years ago.

CHINA CONSIDERS REPLY TO JAPAN AS TO SHANTUNG

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 22.—At a secret meeting of the members of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, according to information from reliable Chinese sources, the second memorandum of the Japanese Government was discussed and the opinion expressed by the majority of the members present that another note should be sent to Japan in the course of the next few days. Dr. Yen who called the meeting is said to have been in favor of this suggestion.

No details of the meeting are available as it was a secret conclave but there seems to be little doubt that a reply to the last note on the Shantung question will be handed to the Japanese Government some time early next week. The reason advanced for this course was that in view of the fact that the Washington Conference is about to open, it is advisable for China to bring to a definite close the Japanese attempt to open direct negotiations.

JAPAN MAKES POINTS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct 22.—The Waichiaopu and the foreign Legations in Peking show but little disposition to comment upon the recent Japanese Memorandum to the Chinese Government regarding the proposed opening of direct negotiations concerning the Shantung question.

In unofficial circles it is assumed that Japan, prior to forwarding this Memorandum, had abandoned all expectation of compliance on the part of China, and that the Memorandum in common with the Chinese Memorandum to which it replied may be considered chiefly as a statement of case primarily intended to offset the contentions of the other party in the event of the matter being brought before the Washington Conference.

Opinion is divided, however, as to whether or not Japan has improved her case by this memorandum. It is admitted that Japan has made several good points, based chiefly on the validity of the Versailles treaty and no doubt looking to the support of the signatories of that Treaty. But it is pointed out that the main object of the Pacific Conference is to secure a settlement of Far Eastern and Pacific Questions with a view to bringing about disarmament, that the Powers chiefly concerned in Far Eastern and Pacific questions in their relation to disarmament are the United States and Japan, and that the claim of the Versailles Treaty to recognition by Powers that did not participate in it is not the happiest argument that could be brought forward on the eve of the Pacific Conference.

With the exception of Japan's references to the attitude of the Reparations Commission towards Germany's former rights in Shantung and China's alleged recognition of Japanese de facto acquisition of them prior to China's declaration of war on Germany the Japanese Memorandum is characterised as contentious and failing to bring forward any new point of importance, while the Chinese do not hesitate to contend that their so-called recognition of Japan's control in Shantung was due solely to force majeure, and that they took the first opportunity of challenging that right, when they could do so without fear of direful consequences.

These views in no sense represent the expressed opinion of either foreign or Chinese officials, for no comment can be obtained in those quarters, but they may be taken as a consensus of intelligent but unofficial views.

CHINA NOT A UNIT

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—Referring to the Japanese reply to China's Shantung Note, the Times refrains from discussing the Japanese arguments on the ground that China from the point of view of international relations is largely a fiction in her present divided state and also because it believes that, when the Powers assemble at Washington, both China and Japan will be able to regard the dispute from a more detached point of view and to see it not as a mere local conflict of interests, conditioned by a bewildering confusion of prerogative, but as part of a larger problem in the solution of which both countries are equally interested.

P. I. CUSTOMS FALL

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Manila, Oct. 13.—An enormous decrease in customs and internal revenue in the Philippines for the first week of Oct. was shown as compared with figures for the same period last year. This year the amount collected was P 186,-373.04. In 1920, during the first week of Oct., collections were P.752,190.03. The slump is attributed to the drop in imports.

H'KONG WILTS WIN AGAIN

Hongkong, Oct. 20.—The Wilts beat the R. G. A. here yesterday by 188 declared for two wickets, to 161 for eight. Col. Wyndham, Wilts, got 109 not out, Capt. Olliver R. G. A. 65, and Capt. Betts, Wilts, 36 not out. McDonald, Wilts took five wickets for 17.

JAP'S MEET AT TSINAN

Tsinan, Oct. 22.—Tsinan Japanese held their annual autumn athletic meet in the crowded streets of the city Oct. 17. Long distance runners had the streets cleared ahead of them by two Japanese, one a military officer, riding ahead with drawn sword. Dozens of Japanese soldiers carrying side arms attended the meet.

The Chinese allege that the Japanese ran on the streets of Tsinan without permission from either the city or provincial authorities.

The Great Democrat, a Chinese daily, says that these races, for the time being, completely stopped all traffic on the streets involved; and it asserts that it cannot understand why the Chinese officials did not stop such a flagrant violation of China's rights in the Settlement, which unlike the ordinary foreign Settlements, is entirely under Chinese control.

It warns the Japanese that sulh high-handed action on their part can only serve to increase the suspicion of the Chinese.

H'KONG YACHT CLUB MEETS

Hongkong, Oct. 22.—At the annual meeting of the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club held here last night regret was expressed that the club had been unable to participate in the spring regatta at Shanghai in May of this year. Six new Heyward Hayes Boats are promised for immediate delivery. New officers include Commodore Frank Smyth, Acting Commodore Claud Severn, Vice Commodore A. R. Lowe, Hon. Secretary A. G. Lamplugh, and Hon. Treasurer S. B. Columbine.

MANILA SET FOR OSAKA

Manila, Oct. 13.—The first move in the development of local swimmers and the preparation for the next Far Eastern Games in Osaka, Japan, in 1923, was made at a recent meeting, of the Far Eastern Swimming Committee of the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation held at Fort Santiago. Tentative plans for a big swimming program were taken up and the committee, among other things, decided to call a meeting of all organisations interested in swimming for the purpose of organising a mammoth swimming league, something like the one started last year by Captain Parker, coach of the Philippine swimming team that competed in Shanghai last May.

Stanley Jones, the undefeated middleweight champion of the Far East, who formerly served as a lieutenant in the Philippine division of the United States Army, has been appointed to take charge of the University of California boxing classes. Eight hundred students are enrolled in the class for boxing instruction.

Chefoo Sport Notes

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, Oct. 19.—The Gymkhana is to be held here on Saturday afternoon. An excellent program has been arranged. The ponies entering for the various events are being got into good trim and the races should be well worth seeing. Launches have been secured to carry contestants and spectators across to the West Beach. Refreshments are being provided by the ladies of the community. Enthusiasts predict that it will be one of the most successful Gymkhanas that Chefoo has yet held.

Tennis is still played, though the courts have officially been declared closed.

Football is being commenced. The China Inland Mission Boys' School is playing regularly three times a week and it is thought that the educational establishment will be able to place a powerful team in the field when a match has been arranged with the men from the Settlement. The latter have not played yet, though it is known that there are some first class players.

Rothschild Sells Stable At Auction

Paris, Sept. 17 (by mail).—Baron Maurice de Rothschild, the prominent horseman, has announced that he has decided to offer the greater part of his racing stable and his stud stable at public auction, and retire from the turf.

Baron de Rothschild decided to retire from racing activities when he was outbidden for the services of Wallace Davis as horse trainer by N. E. Ambatielos, a wealthy Greek ship owner.

Entries In Pistol Shoot Close Monday

The competition calls for 50 shots fired at a standard American target at 20 yards range. Any revolver or pistol over .22 caliber may be used. The winner each year is transferred to the championship class, so that all have a fair chance of winning in succeeding competitions.

Paymaster E. H. Cope, U. S. N., who has since left Shanghai, won the 1920 match with a score of 412 out of a possible 500.

Chow Sze-chi Leaves For The Washington Conference

Chow Sze-chi, former Minister of Finance and one of the three principal advisors to the Chinese Delegation which will attend the Pacific Conference, sailed for the United States yesterday on the Admiral Line steamer Silver State, which took a heavy passenger list from Shanghai.

A number of local Chinese officials were at the jetty to see the Chinese advisor off and the Arsenal band was on hand to play the tender out into the stream.

The Silver State took 375 sacks of mail and a full list of passengers. Among those sailing on the liner for Seattle were Mr. C. W. Landers, for 17 years connected with the Chinese Maritime Customs and Mr. D. M. Linnard, head of the California Hotels Company. Carl Seitz, G. L. Robinson and Captain W. I. Eisler left for Japan on the steamer.

Through passengers from Manila included Mr. Charles E. Yeater who recently retired as Vice Governor of the Philippine Islands; Mr. H. J. Belden, formerly of the Asia Banking Corporation in Manila, and Mrs. Belden, and Mr. Carson Taylor, publisher of the Manila Daily Bulletin.

POLICE CHARGED AS MEMBERS OF BURGLAR GANG

Two Chinese police constables of the Municipal force appeared in the dock at the Mixed Court yesterday in connection with charges of burglary which have been brought against them and four others. The alleged burglaries extend over a period of eighteen months and it is charged that the policemen planned and participated in three of the raids and that they were guilty of malfeasance in office with regard to a number of other robberies.

The case was prosecuted by Mr. R. C. Faithfull, police legal advisor, and Mr. Shoenfeld appeared for the defense. Police testimony was given and evidence was taken from the first of the six accused, who was arrested for loitering and confessed his membership in the gang to the police, giving them information which led to the other arrests.

The case was adjourned.

American Chamber Has New Secretary

Lewis has been appointed to the post of Secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce to succeed Mr. William Chapman, recently appointed Clerk of the United States Court for China. Mr. Don Patterson has been carrying on the duties of Secretary of the organisation temporarily since Mr. Chapman's resignation. Mr. Lewis is a member of the staff of the American Trading Company.

knows all that there is to be known about food values and stimulant values. There is the centre (probably the world centre) of cultured scientific study of how to keep life alive and how to keep life healthy.

An agent for Haig & Haig who trades extensively in the West End of London informs us that not many weeks pass without orders coming from Harley Street doctors for our whisky.

They know what they are doing. Life can be saved (and often is saved) by the timely use of fine stimulant.

When "control" is banished in the Home Market the price of Haig & Haig Whisky will be higher there than other Whiskies. In all uncontrolled markets the higher price is now being paid. That is one of the reasons why Haig & Haig is a scarce commodity in the Home Market.

CHEMIST DIVINES GERMAN SECRET

Process Of Manufacturing Products From Nitrogen In The Air Solved

BIG FACTOR IN THE WAR

Discovery Expected To Make Nation Independent Of Chilean Ores

New York, Sept. 10.—Dr. William Henry Nichols, a noted manufacturing chemist and Chairman of the Board of Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, announced yesterday at the sixty-second meeting of the American Chemical Society in this city that his company, through the ingenuity of American chemists, had duplicated one of the dearest secrets of the Germans—that of manufacturing nitrogen products from the nitrogen of the air.

The chemist sent out the announcement that the new method was being operated on an industrial scale and that the country could be virtually independent of the Chilean nitrates formerly indispensable in the manufacture of explosives, dyestuffs and fertilizer. The Germans used a similar process on a vast scale during the war.

Mr. Nichols formerly was Chairman of the Board of the General Chemical Company, but became Chairman of the Board of the Allied Dye and Chemical Company in 1920, when four of the largest chemical companies in the United States merged with the General Chemical. The new organisation has plants in many cities of the East, with a capital of about $175,000,000.

"This process is the extraordinary 'fixation' of atmospheric nitrogen and 'synthetic production' of nitric acid and nitrates generally which have so greatly interested chemists and chemical manufacturers during the last few years," said the announcement. "Although Germany succeeded in doing it during the war—indeed, it is said that without it she could not have continued the war for six months—the accomplishment is an entirely new one outside of Europe, and marks an important step in the progress of the American chemical industry."

READY FOR WAR IN DECADE

After Francis P. Garvan, President of the Chemical Foundation, Inc., had said that the German chemical industry was making every effort to regain domination in world markets and in ten years would have creative forces ready for another war, the delegates at Columbia University adopted resolutions calling for the "chemical disarmament of Germany and a selective embargo on importations of synthetic organic materials. The resolutions read in part:

"Resolved, first, that we urge upon the American delegates to the disarmament conference most serious consideration of the broad question of chemical armament as effected by the development and maintenance of the chemical industries in the several nations:

"Second, that we urge upon Congress the necessity of including in the permanent tariff bill a selective embargo for a limited period against importations of synthetic organic chemicals; and we express the confident hope that, in view of the important bearing of such action on economic development and on national defense, our representatives, regardless of political affiliations will support this legislation."

Mr. Garvan said that Germany snatched at the coal tar discoveries of the Englishman, William Henry Perkins and built up their dye industry and combining science, industry and militarism, reached for world domination. By 1913, he said, the Germans controlled 95 percent of the organic chemistry of the world.

"When the war began in 1914, $4,000,000,000 of annual industry in this country, to say nothing of our physicians and hospitals, were dependent upon the will of the German Emperor, as exercised through six importing firms and about four assembling plants," he said. "At the Kaiser's nod he summoned their assistance.

WAR LESSONS RECALLED

Bernstorff was able to cable his country that they had in their possession the weapon by which 4,000,000 men in this country could be instantly thrown out of work as an argument why America should attempt to force England to lift the blockade. Germany was able to shut off the supply of salvaisan and luminol from this country.

"The war is over, but the situation is the same. This was an industrial war brought on by industrial Germany to capture the markets of the world. Her ambitions are the same today as they were in 1914. Her methods are the same in peace and war.

Speaking on "Mustard Gas" Sir William Pope, Professor of Chemistry in Cambridge University, said:

"It is customary to suppose that war only exists during a period of hostilities. That has certainly not been the case during the recent conflict. The war from which we have just emerged did not start seven years ago; it started forty years ago, and throughout that whole period you in America and we in England have been fighting for the enemy.

"Every dollar which you spent here on German dyes, every pound which we spent in England upon German dyes, was a contribution toward the military war effort, and although we may have done that in the past in ignorance, I venture to think it will be criminal if you citizens of the United States and we British in the future buy German dyes which can be made equally well here and in England as in Germany, and so contribute to the German war chest."

THROUGH TRAFFIC PACT IS MADE BY THREE BIG LINES

Chinese Government, C. E. R. And South Manchuria Lines Confer

In order that railways can be of the greatest use to the people, states the Peking Leader, those in charge of them should devote special attention to the improvement of conveniences to the passengers and shippers alike, hence the Ministry of Communications have created special organisations to deal with the standardisation and unification of railway technics, administration and accounts. The 10th Domestic Through Traffic Conference which had completed its labors shall help to raise the standard of efficiency of through traffic arrangements on the Chinese Government Railways to a higher pitch.

The close of this Domestic Conference was immediately followed by a Through Traffic Conference participated in by the Chinese Government Railways, the Chinese Eastern Railway and the South Manchuria Railway. This Conference which is holding meetings in the Ministry of the Communications every day is attended by Messrs. Lachinoff, former General Manager and now Senior Adviser, Eltekoff, Dmitrieff and Schetinin, of the Chinese Eastern Railway, and Messrs. Furukawa, Chief of International Section, Uono and Katayama of the South Manchuria Railway and Dr. C. C. Wang, Mr. T. T. Ling, and others of the Chinese Government Railways.

Dr. C. C. Wang, Chief of the Railway Department and Director of Railway Through Traffic Administration was unanimously elected chairman of the Conference. Some form of through traffic arrangements had already been arrived at in 1913 by the Chinese Eastern, the South Manchuria and the Peking-Mukden Railways, and because of the European war these arrangements were suspended a few years later. It has long been necessary to provide greater facilities to the public by improving such conveniences in so far as travel between the districts served by the Chinese Government Railways and the Chinese Eastern Railway. At the invitation of the Ministry of the Communications this Conference is convened for the purpose of unifying traffic regulations and extending through traffic service to the benefit of the public and railways themselves.

Prior to the present understanding in regard to this through traffic service, passengers have to go through the unpleasant formalities of purchasing fresh tickets at Changchun and rebooking their baggages. For one unfamiliar with local regulation of the lines on which one is travelling, and ignorant of the language of the country one is traversing in, the establishment of this through traffic service helps to overcome many difficulties, particularly those met with on the Chinese Eastern Railway, whose station usually speak no other language except Russian. On and after January 1, 1922, one can purchase a through ticket from Peking, Tientsin, Suiyuan, Hankow or Shanghai, the southernmost terminal of the Chinese Government Railways, to Manchuli, Hailar or Suifenho (Pogranichnaia), the terminal station of the Chinese Eastern Railway, and book one's baggages through to the destination station without further trouble. The linking of these towns situated in the far Northeast corner of the country with the Southern cities of China is a matter for congratulation.

As soon as the Trans-Siberian Railway is again opened to traffic these through traffic arrangements will be an advantageous factor in the re-establishment of through service between China and Europe.

Police Scotched Paraded Of Reds

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 24.—Yesterday a demonstration was held in Paris by the Communists to protest against the condemnation to death of Sacco and Vanzetti. The order issued by the Communist Party to its members, writes the Matin, was to assemble at first at the Avenue de la Grande Armee, opposite the Etoile, and then to march in mass formation in front of the United States Embassy, shouting "Justice and Liberty." Very few replied to the summons and, intimidated by the measures which had been taken to protect the Embassy, they dispersed without incident.

Work Of Dante Recalled At Italian Embassy Gathering

Anniversary Of Death Of Noted Italian Observed Under Auspices Of Ambassador Aliotti And Italo-Japanese Society

Tokio, Oct. 12.—Under the auspices of Baron Aliotti, the Italian Ambassador, and the Italo-Japanese Society, of which Prince Nashimoto is president, the 600th anniversary of the death of Dante Alighieri was observed by a brilliant gathering in the gardens of the Italian Embassy yesterday afternoon. Prince and Princess Nashimoto were present, and the Prince proposed the health of the King and Queen of Italy. The Italian Ambassador proposed the health of the Emperor and Empress of Japan.

The ceremonies were held in a marquee in the Embassy gardens. A stage had been erected in the marquee and in the background was a lifesize bust of Dante, the work of Signor Pesci, the well-known Italian sculptor, above which were crossed the flags of Japan and Italy. The gathering included a large number of the members of the diplomatic corps, most of the embassies and principal legations being represented by their chiefs of mission.

The chief address of the ceremonies was that of the Italian Ambassador, who pointed out the value of Dante's work in these days when the world is seeking ways to peace. Mr. Yoshida, chamberlain to the Imperial Household, made an address in Italian, giving evidence of his rare linguistic accomplishments, for Mr. Yoshida is also famous for his English and French. Part of his early education was received in Italy. Professor Matsuura of the Imperial University, speaking in Japanese, gave a lengthy discussion of Dante's work.

The gathering numbered about 300, including besides the President and Princess Nashimoto, many other distinguished Japanese, Premier Hara and all the members of the Cabinet except Admiral Baron Kato, Navy Minister, officials of the Imperial Household Department and members of the Italo-Japanese Society. The Italian colony of Tokio was also in practically full attendance. From the Tokio diplomatic corps there were: The British Ambassador with members of his staff; the retiring Russian Ambassador; the German Ambassador; the Belgian Ambassador and Madame de Bassompiere; the American Ambassador and Mrs. Warren; the French Charge d'Affaires, and the chiefs of mission of the Netherlands, Switzerland, Poland, Norway and Greece. Among the distinguished Japanese present were Marshal Ichinoke, Admiral Shimamura, Baron Goto, Viscount Inouye, Baron Ijuin, Mr. O. Matsukata, Baron Okura, Mr. J. Inouye, Mr. K. Kajiwara, Dr. Ono.

DE FREITAS GOES TO INVESTIGATE MACAO INCIDENT

Portuguese Minister Will Made Report To His Government

For the purpose of making a thorough investigation of the recent Macao incident, when trouble broke out between the Chinese and Portuguese over the island's boundary, Mr. H. de Freitas, Portuguese Minister to China, sailed yesterday on the P. & O. liner Sardinia.

Mr. de Freitas recently received instructions at Peking to proceed to the scene of the dispute and to report in detail to the Portuguese Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He expects also to gather data which would be available for reference at the Washington Conference should the Macao incident come up for attention.

Referring to the uprising and the change in government at Lisbon, Mr. de Freitas yesterday attributed the unrest which led up to the demonstrations to increased living costs, rising exchange, the failure to increase wages and the hampering of trade. It should in no wise be attributed to Bolshevism, he declared.

Resents Film Of Czar Shown In Paris Movie

Russian Officer Of Old Regime Objects To It; Audience Cheers His Protest

Paris, Sept. 4.—Czar Nicholas of Russia was cheered recently at a movie theater in the opera quarter when a protest was made by a young Russia officer against a film in which the former Emperor and his family were unfavorably represented.

The film, which was called "Rasputin," professes to show the life of the Russian court during the career of the famous monk, and while Rasputin himself is represented in a somewhat sympathetic light the Czar and Czarina are depicted as almost degenerates.

The film ran for several evenings without protest, it being regarded by most of the audience simply as fiction, but last evening a young Russian officer of the old regime went to the theater and took the film seriously. Suddenly, as the performance was near its close, he rose from his place in the dark hall and in a clear voice made this speech:

"This film is contrary to historic truth. Why do you let harm be done to the memory of a man who never ceased to be a faithful ally of France? Why throw mud at a man who refused the peace of Brest-Litovsk and was massacred with his family because of his refusal? This film is a gross profanation of his memory."

The whole audience cheered the young man and the film operator hurriedly cut short the performance. Later it was discovered that the young man was M. Alexander Kouzminsky, son of a former President of the Russia Senate, and during the war a pilot with Russian air forces on the French front.

Says 133rd Birthday Makes Him Oldest Living Person

Hyden, Ky., Sept. 11.—"Uncle" John Shell, who says he is the oldest living person, has just passed what is said to be his one hundred and thirty-third birthday at his home on Greasy Creek, Leslie County.

While he is in fairly good health, Shell seems to be declining and this Summer failed to take his customary trip into other parts of the State, which had been his annual custom.

Shell says he was born in 1788 when Kentucky was part of Virginia. His memory is excellent and his sight fairly good. His hearing is slightly impaired.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

October 25, 1921.

Spot and forward bar silver were each down 5/8d. in London yesterday.

The New York price declined to 70⅛ cents.

The London-New York cross rate improved to $95.

The opening official quotations here were the same as the closing rates of last night with the exception of the Gold Dollar rate which advanced to 77¼.

At the opening, speculators were inclined to sell but, as they found good buyers of Sterling at 3/10½ for October and 3/9¼ for December, they discontinued their selling operations and became buyers.

The banks, not finding any cover, were unwilling sellers and the market became very weak with the result that the official quotations were dropped twice in succession, the Sterling T/T rate at the last drop being fixed at 3/9, the Gold Dollar rate at 74 and the Yen rate at 65¼.

In the afternoon speculators became sellers and rates firmed up, as high as 3s. 10¾d. for October and 3s. 9¾d. for December being done.

However, just before the close the market eased off slightly again and at the close the best obtainable was 3s. 10½d. for October delivery and possibly 3s. 9½d. for December.

There were Gold Dollar buyers for December at 75. The market closed on the easy side. China sold silver in London yesterday and Indian Bazaars and speculators bought.

The London market is reported as closing uncertain while New York advises that silver is being freely offered there with no buyers.

Your Health Comes First

Good Health is your most valuable asset;—its preservation should, therefore, receive your most careful consideration. An important point which should always be borne in mind is the fact that a great many forms of ill-health can be traced, directly or indirectly, to disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is wise, therefore, to keep these organs in healthy activity. When they show any signs of derangement let that reliable medicine, Beecham's Pills, be taken at once. Always deal with digestive ailments in time. They are far-reaching in their possibilities of mischief if neglected, as they too often are. And yet it is generally easy to keep fit and well and free from many debilitating ailments by the simple use of

Chen Chung-ming And Wu Pei-fu

BY JOSEF W. HALL

THE observer of Chinese politics is inclined to ask: "Why do not Wu Pei-fu and Chen Chung-ming, who could apparently accomplish so much for their nation were they to co-operate, get together?"

Were these two chieftains consciously to follow such a policy there would be many difficulties in the way. A Chinese leader is more the creature of his background than is usually realised by the commentator on Chinese affairs. Wu Pei-fu, who due to circumstances would have to take the initiative in the formation of such an alliance, is expressedly desirous of co-operating with some southern leader who can swing the provinces south of the Yangtsze into accord with his plans for national reorganisation through a people's convention. But Chen Chung-ming has, thus far, been beyond his ken. He has relied upon Chao Heng-ti of Hunan to play this role, and he still hopes that Chao will prove a useful partner in the enterprise, although he accused the Hunan governor of perfidy to his pledge of assistance in Wu's schemes, at the time of Hunan's attack upon Hupeh. To Wu's mind this campaign delayed the consummation of his plan and therefore constituted, on Chao's part, traitorism to the scheme which Chao had promised to assist. The eventuation of the Wuhan affair in increasing Wu's power and thus making the success of his plan more certain although more remote has brought Wu to forgive Chao for Hunan's rash action in stirring up strife. Wu desires still to count him in on the scheme, as the southern leader therein, and is exerting much effort to bolster up Chao's position, which has been much weakened, toward this end.

It is evident that Chao has lost too much influence in the south to occupy the place which Wu hopes him to fill. He has neither influence nor power to swing popular nor official sentiment in the southern provinces to Wu's convention scheme. The Sun Yat-sen party, although formerly regarding him as with their faction rather than with the north, have, because of his equivocal attitude in the Wuhan affair, come to hold him under suspicion.

Chen Chung-ming is the man whom Wu Pei-fu needs. Without Chen's co-operation his convention can hardly be a success, or if a success its reorganising influence will be felt only north of the Yangtsze and will not tend to heal the rift between north and south. But Chen is a stranger to Wu. In China acquaintances are made quickly but friendships slowly. Wu has been close to Chao for years and therefore would like to rely upon him. He has never had relations with Chen, of personal or other nature. It is very difficult for him to approach Chen, as such action upon his part would give the Mukden lord cause to accuse him of infidelity to the Peking government—the one thing which Wu must, at the present time, guard against. He has already enough upon his shoulders without undertaking such an extra burden, or giving Chang Tso-lin pretext to appear as protector of the established government against himself, the situation which redounded to Chang's benefit in the Anfu crisis one year ago. On the other hand, Chen, in accepting Wu's advances would immediately subject himself to the denunciation of Sun Yat-sen.

Without co-operation between these leaders China's internal situation holds forth little hope. Co-operation can apparently only come through some catastrophic action upon the part of one of the factions of leaders which will throw the two in touch with one another, although many friends of both and of China are working to bring them together. Should Sun Yat-sen's aims drive him to rash action which would result in the coming together of Chen and Wu, who stand head and shoulders above the politicians and military chieftains of their time, the ultimate benefit to China as a whole might be great indeed.

MME. KULICHEVSKAIA'S GRAND BALLET

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS.

Sir: A great success again indeed, for Mme. Kulichevskaia's Grand Ballet at the Olympic last Friday. The audience again showed their appreciation by their continued applause and demanding of "encores." But does nobody think of Mme. Kulichevskaia to whom alone we are indebted for the rare pleasure in Shanghai to witness real good ballets. I can very well imagine her feelings that even after the third performance none of the audience thought of asking her to appear on the stage to which she always has been accustomed before visiting Shanghai. The reason was, perhaps, that everybody was so filled with admiration for our little dancers and their dances that the one who is the cause of all this was quite forgotten. Let us hope so. Thanking you for your valuable space, and enclosing my card, I am, Yours very truly,

HESIDONA.

Shanghai, Oct. 24, 1921.

TIGHT LACING

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS.

Sir: I would thank you very much to please publish the following in your columns:

I quote below two paragraphs in reference to the above mentioned subject from "What a Young Wife Ought to Know:"

"Let them think for a moment, that the corset when worn tight enough to ensure the form which is considered correct, so narrows their lung capacity that they can but half inflate them, and so a double duty is thrown upon the heart in its effort to purify the blood, while an insufficient quantity of oxygen is given it for the purpose. When the lungs are inflated to their fullest capacity, there is only sufficient oxygen furnished to burn the waste material of the system which is thrown off through the blood. What then must be the result when a half, or a third of the lung capacity is used?

One physician has said: 'Woman by her injurious style of dress is doing as much to destroy the race as is man by alcoholism.' Another physician, Dr. Ellis, says, 'The practice of tight lacing has done more within the last century towards the physical deterioration of civilised man, than has war, pestilence and famine combined.' Frances E. Willard said, 'But woman's everlasting befrilled, bedisened, and bedraggled style of dress, is today doing more harm to children unborn, born and dying, than all other causes that compel public attention.'"

What the physicians say is especially true in the case of Chinese women. In your paper a few days ago I read that the members of the Chinese Women's Returned Students Club will meet on October 25 to discuss problems which China is facing and the part the women of the nation can play in helping to solve them. This is a very good news, and I trust they will take the above named subject as one of the problems into discussion and will take the necessary steps to introduce a reform.

From what I saw while in Shanghai a month ago I find that highly educated young ladies, especially the returned students, haave great influence over the common class women. They will be surprised to see, if they themselves take the lead, how readily the women in Shanghai will fall into line, and they will also see that the women of the other provinces of China will follow Shanghai. What would be their reward then? This problem is easy: No money is required to solve it. Yours faithfully,

Y. D. Y.

Less Quality In Russia, Says Bernstein

BY HERMAN BERNSTEIN

(Famous Journalist, Who Has Returned to America from an Extensive Tour of Europe Studying Conditions)

This is the story of Isidore Pector, a Philadelphia tailor, of No. 422 Carpenter street, who left the United States for Russia five months ago as a red-hot Communist and who has just come out of Russia, according to his own description, "as good an American patriot as there is."

I met him at Riga shortly after his return from Moscow and before the recent changes in the Soviet policies. He told me his story simply, sincerely, with deep feeling and with tears in his eyes. I reproduce it in the same disconnected form in which he related it to me.

HAD FAITH IN SOVIETS

"I left the United States for Russia one month after the Soviet representative Martens had been sent away," he began. "I went to Russia as an earnest Communist. I believed that everything was being done there for the welfare of the working people. I was not an agitator in the United States. I was just a plain Communist, one of the rank and file, and like most of my comrades, I was devoted to Soviet Russia, and prepared to make sacrifices.

"I was full of faith in the dictatorship of the proletariat. I felt sure that there was no difference in Russia now between Jew and Gentile. I knew that there were no pogroms under Bolshevist rule.

"Whenever anyone returning from Russia criticised the Soviet Government, we said—and we actually believed—that he must be in the pay of the capitalists. I could see no other reason why these critics attacked the government of the working people. In fact, even when Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the International Garment Workers, returned from Russia and mentioned some of the shortcomings of the Soviets, I called him an agent of the capitalists and a traitor to the cause of the workers. That is how I felt before I went to Russia.

"I know better now. Others who believed as I did came with me to Russia, but in a short time our spirit was broken and our faith shaken. We are disillusioned. We realise that we did not know in America what was actually going on in Russia.

"My comrades, the Communists, gave me a banquet in Philadelphia before I started for Russia. They presented me with this fountain pen on that occasion. Most of my friends who could not go to Russia envied me. I wish they could have gone. They would have become the best American citizens, as I have become now. They would have learned how to appreciate America with all her faults, especially as there is none of the hooliganism in America which prevails in Russia today.

LESS EQUALITY THERE

"During the first month I noticed that there are different privileges for various workmen, and much less equality than in the United States. I saw that Russia has been turned into an enormous military barrack. The returning emigrants are given a month's rest to start with upon their arrival in Russia. They do not have to work during that month, and they get their food cards as if they were working.

"Before the month was over I was offered a good job by the Government, in connection with the transportation of Russian emigrants across the Latvian border, but I refused it. What I learned in Russia during the first two weeks was sufficient to make me deeply disappointed.

"It is enough for someone to say a word against the Government, and he is arrested. And all those who happen to live in the same house are also placed under arrest. And any name that may be found in that man's notebook is scrutinised, and further arrests are made.

PUPILS SMOKE IN SCHOOL

"I also was arrested for a few weeks on account of an error in my papers made by the commissary himself. He gave me a permit to visit my home town, but dated the permit wrongly. This led to my imprisonment. There I found that the prison is at present the only place in Russia where people may really criticise the government.

"When I was in the States I had heard a great deal about the so-called Subbotniki—the Sabbath-workers in Russia. The Communists in America described the wonderful devotion of these Sabbath-workers who volunteered to help the state and the revolution, after they had done their regular week's work. I have now seen how these people—men and women, boys and girls—were forced to work on Saturdays and Sundays, at the point of the bayonet.

"These Sabbath-workers were photographed and the pictures were used for propaganda. You can imagine my feelings when I saw with my own eyes what was being prepared as Communist propaganda in America.

"I heard a great deal about the wonderful schools in Soviet Russia before I came there. To my great amazement I found the children smoking in the classrooms during school hours; they were using the vilest language imaginable; they insulted their teachers, whom they neither feared nor respected. I found in the schools a great deal of demoralisation and immorality.

"The workers are producing practically nothing. While being engaged on government work as tailors or shoemakers many of them were producing lighters, for instance—for matches are very scarce—and there is a great demand for these lighters, which sell at good prices.

SHIRKING BY WORKERS

"When the government inspector appears the workmen resume their work for a while, but as soon as the inspector walks away, the workmen take up their own work again. Though working for the government, almost every one is working for himself.

"Besides, stealing has developed there to such an extent as I have not seen anywhere else. I am a tailor and have worked for nine years as a tailor in the United States. In Russia tailors must keep their eyes constantly on the goods near them, or the material is stolen and sold in the marketplace. People are stealing goods from the Government factories and sell it secretly to speculators, who resell it for enormous prices.

"While I was in prison Joffe's secretary was in the same cell with me. Joffe was the Soviet Ambassador to Germany and the head of the peace delegation that signed peace with Poland. His secretary was in prison for about eight months, and the charge against him was that he had sold four carloads of goods for speculative purposes."

The Philadelphia tailor paused, sighed and went on:

"When I left America I didn't cry as much when I said 'Goodbye' to my mother as I cried in prison when I saw the terrible things that were going on in Russia.

FOUND IMMORALITY

"I found there gambling, drinking, graft, immorality, inequality, terrorism and no freedom of the press or of speech.

"For instance, card-playing is prohibited there, but I found many of the officials playing cards.

There is supposed to be no vodka in Soviet Russia, yet vodka is being smuggled into Russia, and the officials get all they want and more.

"Lenin is liked by the masses because he makes compromises, and especially because he has decided to allow trading.

"I know that many people were shot on the eve of May 1, 1921, when some of the officials didn't want people to be released by the expected amnesty. I found in prison Socialist - Revolutionists mousheviki, anarchists—and I know that on the eve of May 1 hundreds of people were shot without trial. Officials came into the cells at night, called the names of the prisoners, told them to get their things—and then we heard the shots nearby.

"I have noticed that the people of Russia have become very religious again. Almost everybody is going to church. I witnessed a religious procession in Petrograd. I had to go to the Nikolayevsky railroad station, and could not pass for a long time. I was forced to wait for the procession to end. The authorities were frightened by that demonstration. They believed that it was the work of an enormous organisation formed by the church. But it was not. It was just a spontaneous religious demonstration.

ANTI-SEMITISM RIFE

"The feeling against the Jews is as intense as it is undeserved. Many Russians look upon the Soviet government as exclusively Jewish, and anti-Jewish songs are heard in various parts of the country. And all this in spite of the fact that the government is in every respect far more Russian than Jewish, and that the Jewish masses have suffered there as much if not more than other elements of the population, under the communist rule.

"On May 1 there was to be a great festival for the children in Russia on the occasion of the failure of the Kronstadt uprising, and because the war was at last over, but no amnesty was granted. There was keen disappointment. At the last moment the authorities stopped the demonstration because they feared an uprising.

"Now, as to the experimental communes. The government has furnished them with tractors and other agricultural implements, but instead of their producing food for the government, the government had to give them food. Nobody is doing any real work in Russia. The tailors are not working. The factories are idle.

"Some of the emigrants from America were given a large house known as the Polizhayev estate. The landworkers were given land to cultivate for themselves, but nothing came of it.

"In the Petrocommune, that is the commune of Petrograd, I have seen people in charge of distribution of dishes, clothing, shoes, giving these only to their friends and relatives. Some of the workmen said to me: 'It's no use standing in line. You will not get anything. It will be cheaper to buy in the market.'

"As far as the press is concerned, all newspapers are alike in Russia. The workmen and the peasants do not trust them any more. It is illegal to publish other newspapers than those issued by the government. The Socialist-Revolutionists, the mensheviki, the anarchists, are not allowed to publish their newspapers.

"Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, for instance, are not permitted to address any public meetings. Whenever anything happens in Russia that is unfavorable to the Soviet government, the newspapers are not allowed to say anything about it.

"It has been said that actors and artists are treated well in Soviet Russia. Even actors and singers act or sing there by force. Even Chaliapine is forced to sing. But, of course, Chaliapine has always enjoyed a unique position in Russia, so he can have practically whatever he wants.

"They have libraries in the prisons and motion picures at the railroad stations. But most of the books in the prison libraries are 'smoked out'—many pages having been used for cigarettes. The railroad stations are overcrowded, and people live there for weeks under most insanitary conditions, so that epidemics are raging. To divert these unfortunate people, the Government is showing them motion pictures, and music is playing to amuse the hungry crowds.

"You may have heard of the large number of houses collapsing in Russia. That is true. Many of the wooden houses are destroyed for fuel. Other houses are collapsing because there is nobody to make repairs, for the Government is supposed to look after them. This is quite a frequent occurrence. The dirt in the large cities is dreadful.

"While I was in Russia the newspapers were constantly writing about new trade agreements with foreign countries, about many carloads of goods coming into Russia, about general strikes in the United States, England and France—they are exaggerated in order to deceive and mislead the people.

"After my disillusionment in Communist Russia," concluded the tailor, "I am longing to go back to America, to work there honestly and hard. Now I know that America is my home. Now I love America, and no misinformation will undermine my loyalty to the United States."

RUSSIA

Pope, when he wrote his Dunciad, must have forseen the coming of the Bolsheviks:

Religion blushing veils her sacred fires,
And unawares morality expires.
Nor public flame, nor private, dares to shine;
Nor human spark is left, nor glimpse divine!
Lo! thy dread empire, Chaos! is restored;
Light dies before thy uncreating word,
Thy hand, great Anarch! lets the curtain fall:
And universal darkness buries all.

Poets do sometimes "see things."

JIMMY WILDE, M. P.

Jimmy Wilde, who was a miner before he won fame as a boxer, has never forgotten his old comrades. His fighting days are coming near their close, and Jimmy is retiring as an independent man. I hear that there are events more unlikely than that he may stand for Parliament as a miners' representative.

If he does I wonder if the Speaker will like it if Jimmy "catches his eye."

To illustrate how meaningless the word "comrade" may become Mrs. Philip Snowden, in her new book, "A Political Pilgrim in Europe," quotes the following letter:

"Dear Comrade—What do you mean by selling out as you did? You are a liar and a scoundrel. You ought to be shot, you filthy dog.

"Yours Fraternally."

"No," said his friend Smith. "I buy all mine."

"No."

"What have you read, then?"

Cosmical Facts

BY EDGAR LUCIEN LARKIN

(Director of Lowe Observatory)

When trigonometry cannot be used for measuring distances of celestial objects recourse is had to study of light received from them.

If a cosmical body is so far away that the earth's distance from the sun, as seen from it, is too small to be measured by any telemicrometer on the body looking this way, trigonometry is useless, for it must have a base line and angles.

Now there are suns and nebulae so far from our solar system that, as seen from them, a line 92,897,416 miles long could not be measured An example is Nebula New General Catalogue No. 5194. Opposite to it is "No parallax." Of course, it has a parallax, the radius of the earth's orbit as seen from it, but no instrument is delicate enough to measure it. Then its distance cannot be found. Some stars are marked "No parallax," but a tentative distance can be found by the new process of photometry, measuring the intensity of their light. New methods give absolute magnitude—that is, quantity, or better, intensity of light. Then find the absolute magnitude of a sun whose distance is known, and compare.

This is a new branch of astronomical research based on the new higher science of optics or of light. And another conquest of Nature which makes man an exalted being.

If that master mathematician, Pierre Simon Laplace, 1741-1827, could return to life and visit modern observatories, see results and talk with the astronomers, he would be astonished to behold the results of his life of severe toil in producing the immortal books "Mecanique Celeste" and "Systeme du Monde." His formulas laid down in these masterpieces have been expanded to all parts of the stellar universe within range of vision of the most powerful telescopes. These are provided with telemicrometers with which to measure quantities so small that early instrument makers thought impossible. These minute measures are required to measure the small angular distances between binary suns. Could Laplace have had these values he would have weighed them all; and astronomy would have been greatly advanced. His works are as a Newton's Principia in celestial mechanics; and laid the very foundation upon which now stand the elaborate results reached by Simon Newcomb, Brown, Hill, G. H. Darwin, See, Stockwell, Moulton, Leuschner and others like them. For they have let fall research mathematical sounding lines in space deeps not thought possible in the days of the master, Laplace. He could not know of these inconceivable distances of suns, but he laid the mighty foundations deep and wide, all ready to be used when parallaxes were measured with an accuracy sufficient to measure the distances of a star.

But this was not accomplished until 1832, when the distance of Alpha Centauri was measured with any degree of precision—five years after the death of Laplace. Were he here now and able to read a book, "Publications of the Washburn Observatory, Madison, Wis., on Meridian Observations for Stellar Parallax," the great mind would be filled with awe.

Astronomer Albert S. Flint and assistants have toiled as only scientific men toil in measuring parallaxes of stars. These are basic values of how long the distances of the earth from the sun would appear in fractions of seconds of are as if observed from these stars. From these their distances are as if observed from these binaries they can be weighed by are known. If the stars are the laws of celestial mechanics. In this monument to human genius ninety-seven pages are filled with formulas and methods of skilled observations in nine tables. But Table X. is the grand list of relative parallaxes. Here are several in fractions of seconds of are, 0.010, 0.363, 0.02, 0.258, 0.000, 0.1, 0.2, 0.3, 0.03 and so on for 124 stars. But a star of parallax 1 second is distant 19,182,645,000,000 miles. Of 0.1 second, ten times as far; of 0.01 second 100 times as far away. But no star known has a parallax of one second; the nearest, Alpha Centauri, having p. esual 0.75 seconds. Alpha Centauri, then, must be 25,500-000,000,000 miles away.

NO FEDERATION PLAN

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Josiah Wedgwood asked: "Is there any proposal to federate in any way the Governments of Mauritius and Ceylon and any other colony?"

Mr. Wood, Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Colonies, replied that no such proposal was contemplated.

CHINESE WOULD USE RED CROSS FAMINE SURPLUS

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 20.—Recent floods and famine in Anhwei, Shantung and other provinces of China have caused professional Chinese philanthropists to take a growing interest in the balance of $1,300,000 left over from the China Famine Fund collected under the auspices of ex-President Wilson and Mr. Thomas W. Lamont and sent to Peking for distribution by the American Advisory Committee for Famine Relief.

Philanthropists from various provinces and of various political affiliations have for some time past been approaching the American committee in Peking, it is stated on the best authority, with suggestions as to how the $1,300,000 could be used to best advantage. Floods here, famine there have been the foundation of their pleas and, if a hearing had been given to all these appeals, the balance in hand could have been spent many times over.

PREVENTIVE WORK AIM

The American committeemen have, however, decided that none of this money should be expended for the relief of floods or famine that the Chinese could have avoided or are in a position to attend to with their own funds. It is the unanimous opinion of the American committee that the $1,300,000 left over should be used as a famine prevention fund, the interest from which should be devoted to contructive work designed to aid in the prevention of future floods and famine, and a recommendation to this effect has gone forward to those in charge of the China Famine Fund in the United States.

At the same time the members of the American committee here have informed Mr. Lamont that they are prepared to take over, either as a whole or in such numbers as he and his committee may see fit to appoint, supervision of famine and flood prevention work in China along lines that may appear suitable to the members of the China Famine Fund Committee.

HALF OF FUND IS REMITTED

About half of the $1,300,000 left over from famine relief work has been remitted to Mr. Lamont's committee by the treasurer of the Peking Committee. The balance is still in Peking on time deposit, but will be transferred to New York upon the expiration of the time fixed. And under no circumstances will any part of the $1,300,000 be turned over to Chinese or any one else for flood and famine relief at the present time.

SIX ARE DROWNED

(Reuter's Service)

Rotterdam, Oct. 24.—A lifeboat capsized today whilst endeavoring to save the crew of a lighter which grounded on the rocks. Six of the crew were drowned.

TREES AND SILK TO BE GROWN BY CANTON BUREAU

(China Press Correspondence)

Kaying, Kwangtung, Oct. 24.—The present government at Canton is greatly interested in the development of the natural resources of Kwangtung. The increasing cost of lumber is causing an awakening to the value of forests.

The government is in the process of establishing a series of experimental forestry stations throughout this province to aid in the propagation of suitable trees. One has recently been established on an idle tract of land here in Kaying. A graduate of the governmental agricultural school at Nanchang, Kiangsi, is in charge.

A number of foreign and local tree seeds are being experimented with in the hope that several useful varieties may by made available for aforestation in this section. About 80 percent of the country here is available for the planting of forests. Great economic wealth will have been produced if the project succeeds.

Sericulture which has been at a low ebb here for some time because of inability to combat disease is being revived also by the government. Recently 50 students were graduated from the Kaying School of Sericulture after completing a short course.

The latest methods of watching for and eliminating disease of worms and eggs are being used. Both eggs and mulberry trees are distributed locally in order to encourage the industry, and the cocoons are later bought from the public. Because of the mild climate it is possible to obtain seven hatchings in a single season, and the silk is said to be of high quality.

Canton Christian College has been very actively co-operating with the government at Canton to bring about improved conditions in the field of agriculture. A full college of agriculture has just been established there with Chinese and foreign experts in charge. This work is at present partly supported by Penn State University and The Kansas State Agricultural College, but 75 percent of the financial support comes from the Chinese.

The practical sort of work being done by the college has gained the confidence and support of the Chinese. A very substantial grant of money has been made by the Canton government to The College of Agriculture to be used in extension work at various centers throughout Kwangtung.

UNGERN TROOPS LAY DOWN ARMS

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 22.—A telegram received from Hailar throws light upon the complete mystery that has surrounded the main body of General Ungern's followers since he was captured by the Red forces west of Urga.

It was known that Ungern had become separated from the majority of his men some days before his capture and several reports were received to the effect that those who refused to work longer under his command had moved first to the South and then in an easterly direction.

A couple of weeks later about a hundred men without arms arrived at Hailar and surrendered to the Chinese, but of the main body no word has been received until now, when it is reported that 900 of Ungern's men with some heavy guns and machine guns have arrived at Hailar and been disarmed by the Chinese troops there.

They obviously came in with the intention of surrendering, for they peacefully handed over their arms. The Chinese authorities are now arranging to transport these troops, without their guns and munitions to Grodekovo. The final act of the tragedy staged by General Ungern in Outer Mongolia thus seems to have been brought to a close.

Harbin Tramways Concession May Go To American Firm

(China Press Correspondence)

Harbin, October 22.—The Chinese capitalists who obtained a concession for building a tramway and electric plant at Harbin have handed over their rights to the representative of the American firm of Begmann and Linden. It appears that the negotiations for this transfer started a long time ago, but the Chinese were continually changing their mind and wavering. Finally the representative of the American Company declared that unless the preliminary agreement was signed prior to October 1 he would close all negotiations. The papers are full of comments with regard to this change and emphasise that the new agreement is worded in a careless way as far as the Chinese side is concerned and does not guarantee the immediate beginning of the work.
